

Feminists come from all different backgrounds.

“Being a feminist, for me, is being a part of a movement that advocates for radical and transformative social justice, celebrates the right to determine your own identity, and recognizes the power located in our differences.”

-Liam Oliver Lair, Ph.D student in Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies.

www.commissiononthestatusofwomen.org - cswatku@gmail.com